

RELIEF BODY INDORSED BY SECRETARY LANE

Lauds Aims of the Government Employees' Mutual Association in Letter.

HAS MEMBERSHIP OF ABOUT 700

Secretary of Interior Lane yesterday in a letter to the Government Employees' Mutual Relief Association gave his cordial indorsement to its purposes.

This association is organized for mutual relief in cases of accident or illness and is composed of about 700 members of various bureaus of the Department of the Interior and other departments, particularly those employing field forces. The association is organized on a purely mutual basis and provides for benefits on account of expenses resulting from accident, illness or death, and for indemnity for loss of time during periods when the members are sick or injured and is not drawing pay from the government. Secretary Lane's letter is as follows:

"The Government Employees' Mutual Relief Association is based on the underlying principle of mutual self-help. Membership in this association will afford aid in cases of illness and accident and cause the person who is so unfortunate to be visited by these calamities to feel that he will have some financial assistance in his time of need. It should be a matter of honor among employees that death, illness or accident shall not render necessary an appeal to their associates for assistance.

"The idea of this association appeals to me as an enlightening method of cooperation to meet such unfortunate conditions and alleviate the financial distress that so often accompanies them."

WILL TRY TO CONTROL FLOODS.

Red Cross Undertaking in China Will Call for $20,000,000.

Peking, Jan. 30.—The American Red Cross Society has been granted by the Chinese government a license which will enable it to undertake a project for controlling the river Hwai, whose overflows have hitherto caused every year great loss of life and damage to property. ## WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

Situation Continues Irregular, Although Better Feeling Is Prevalent—Recent Improvement Been Somewhat Sentimental.

New York, Jan. 30.—R. R. Dunn & Co.'s review tomorrow will say:

"Recent improvement in business condition is in some measure sentimental and certain branches of trade and industry have not shared in the forward movement to any appreciable extent. Briefly summed up, the situation continues irregular, although there is tangible reason for the better feeling prevalent. Another reassuring feature is the fact that the turning point in iron and steel seems to have been definitely reached, with the enlarged mill operations providing for an increased employment of labor.

"A number of iron and steel plants are now running at a higher rate and some forward business is being placed. "Conditions in the primary dry goods markets have improved materially since the opening of the year, with many indications of renewed interest on the part of retailers. Firmly established in price, and deliveries on old contracts are tardy, while considerable business has been booked on the better known grades of sheetings.

"A good demand is reported for some varieties of leather, but trade generally is not active. Although at this period of the year, when inventories have been completed, buyers usually take on additional supplies, yet this far new orders have failed to meet expectations.

"Irregular fluctuations were the rule in the markets for the leading farm staples, although the cereals gained something in price. Relatively more firmness was shown by corn than wheat. Early developments in wheat were bearish, but thereafter the undertone of quotations became firmer. Domestic edible supplies decreased and predictions of a cold wave caused some apprehension regarding winter wheat."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

February 1, 1914.

By G. CAMPBELL MORGAN, D. D.

The Greatest Living Evangelist.

The Unfriendly Neighbor.

LESSON—Luke 11:14-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Luke 11:15.

"And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; and knock, and it shall be opened unto you."

(1) And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, some of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples.

(2) And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Thy kingdom come. Give us day by day our daily bread.

(3) And forgive us our sins: for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And bring us not into temptation.

(4) And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves:

(5) For a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him?

(6) And he that answereth and saith, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and give thee.

(7) I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him as many as he needeth.

(8) And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

(9) For every one that asketh receiveth: and he that seeketh findeth: and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

(10) And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask a loaf, and he give him a stone? or a fish, and he give him a scorpion?

(11) Or if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a serpent, or a scorpion, or a scorpion?

(12) If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

The Narrative.

In this lesson again we have a parable or an illustration rather, the value of which must be determined by a careful consideration of its setting. The Lord had been praying, evidently observed by his disciples. It is a remarkable and interesting fact that we have no record of his praying, but we are told that he was often with them in prayer, and that he prayed in separation from them. This statement Luke had already made in one instance.

"It came to pass," says the Sunday school lesson, "that when he ceased, some of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught his disciples."

He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used. He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used.

He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used. He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used.

He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used. He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used.

He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used. He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used.

He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used. He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used.

He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used. He then gave them the Lord's Prayer, which he said was the prayer which he himself used.
